Seminar paper from the year 2015 in the subject English - Miscellaneous, grade: 13, , language: English, abstract: This work concentrates on the different opportunities and steps how to get a permanent visa in Canada and even become a Canadian citizen. It refers to the English speaking territories and provinces only, since the province of Quebec is allowed to have their own immigration programs.

Every year, over 1.3 million people apply to visit, work, or settle in Canada and discover that their future rests in visa officers' hands. How do these officers decide who gets in? Seeking answers to this question, Vic Satzewich gained access to eleven overseas visa offices. Points of Entry reveals immigration officers in action as they determine credibility and risk. Contrary to popular opinion, individual bias rarely enters into their decisions. Instead, a combination of experience, organizational culture, and accumulated local knowledge shapes their decision to issue a visa or dig deeper into some people's stories and histories.

'This report presents the findings of the evaluation of Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada's (IRCC) Express Entry system. The evaluation was conducted in fulfillment of requirements under the 2016 Treasury Board Policy on Results, and considered issues of the system's effectiveness, with particular attention given to the early economic performance of immigrants screened through Express Entry. The evaluation covered the period from 2015 to 2018. Launched in January 2015, Express Entry is Canada's evidence-based application management system for certain economic immigration categories: Federal Skilled Worker Program, Federal Skilled Trades Program, Canadian Experience Class and a portion of the Provincial Nominee Program"--Executive summary, page 6.
